FIVE COLORED CANDIDATES WIN

Crittenden Clark Retains Official Standing As Republican Nominee For Justice Of The Peace. Two Candidates For Constable In The Fourth District And One In The Fifth.

As a result of the contest filed by Chas. H. Turpin, who was defeated for the office of sheriff by J. B. Chesney, Constable in the Fourth District, according to the official returns, there will be two Negro candidates for Constable in the Fourth instead of one as was first reported.

All of the Negro Candidates made some gains in the recount, but Turpin's defeat in the Fourth District was so decisive he was actually "counted out" in the Fourth District.

Chesney was quite a surprise to many in view of the fact that it could hardly be expected that a black man had any advantage in the count.

Mr. Clark made a hard, but clean fight for the nomination, but declared at all times that he was a good loser. In as much as it has been shown that Clark is the choice of the Republican Party, and one of the Justices of the Peace of the Fourth District, the satisfaction of Mr. McChesney, it is

The office of the Election Commissioners accordingly reports:

"But it is a surprise to most of us that the manipulators would have taken the chance of 'counting out' 'Doc' H. Turpin, because he is too well known as the 'fighting contestant'."

The recount gave Turpin 168 votes over Robert E. Whiker, who lost 275 votes.

The board immediately certified to Turpin's nomination and the official papers were sent to the Circuit Clerk's office late Thursday afternoon.

Strange as it may appear, all the errors in tabulation were against Turpin and in favor of Robert Walker, a white candidate. They were made, not by precinct election officials, but by employers of the Election Board's office.

who tabulated wrongly the figures which the precinct officials had reported correctly.

Crooks Are Fired.

Following their action nullifying Walker's nomination and declaring Turpin nominated, the members of the Board of Election Commissioners summarily dismissed "for good of the service," two of their office clerks, who had been engaged in official count of the votes cast in the contest for the constableness in the Fourth District. The two clerks are Otto Kae, 2329 Greer avenue, (Rep.), and E. R. Hicks, 4281

The count as it now stands in favor of Turpin and Langston Harrison, two candidates for the Fourth District, is Harrison, 1719; Turpin, 1697; and Walker, 526. The recount by small precincts deducted forty-eight for Turpin's old count, leaving Walker's count 555.

Walker lost seventy-seven votes in the Sixth Ward of which sixteen precincts are included in the Fourth Dis-

The Board of Management feels that the public should know of the existing condition which impels the welfare of the young womanhood of our race. Will not St. Louis do as much for her girls and women as other cities? This is the time for action. Who will be first? Shall the dormitory close its doors September 1st?

to four others, who make the entries on large sheets for addition when the district is completed. According to members of the board, mistakes are impossible, since the numbers are called back by the four clerks who copy. If the clerks were read incorrectly the clerks who had the precinct statements would not read them correctly.

Ten votes were added in the Third Precinct, Walker receiving 35, when only entitled by the tally to 25.
The most glaring mistake found in the account was in the return from the Fifth Precinct of the Seventeenth Ward, the tally entitling Walker to 18 votes, while the error on the part of the clerk gave him 300 votes. Twenty votes were added in the Eighth Precinct 10 in the Tenth Precinct and 10 in the Eleventh Precinct.

Langston Harrison who led the field for Constable gained 15 votes on the official count. There was no contest.

Charles H. Dorsey, who won in Fifth District for Constable, on Walnut street, who was recommended to the State Legislature. This gives the race five candidates on the Republican ticket.

THEATRES
SPICY VAUDEVILLE AT THE BOOKER WASHINGTON THEATRE
 IS EXCELLENT ENTERTAINMENT

The vaudeville program at the Booker Washington Theatre this week is well filled with spicy ingredients of good action and an entertaining show is the result.

The Gaines Brothers in a comic acrobatic act are the curtain raisers. This is a clever and accomplished team who can do almost impossible feats in balancing and tumbling. Their contortions in barrels, brought to a climax with fire and explosion, gives a thrill to the act.

Hart and Hart, man and woman, open with song and a few dance steps. An acrobatic dance by the man is out of the ordinary. The woman sings "How Long, How Long," and then a line of humorous conversation is indulged in by the pair. Some of it is original, some antiquated, but it all draws the laugh. Their close is a song with good dancing.

The Delta Watson Trio is third on the program. It's an all female combination, opening with a medley of songs and dances and going big. This is followed with some good comedy songs, a song, "Till My Daddy Comes," and a dance with the "Blues" that makes a real hit.

Williams and Hayden, a male team, close the show. They are a real comedy pair and keep up a humorous session which they mix with song numbers and dancing, including "Fench It When You Come," "Everybody's Gail Is My Gail," "Brown Skin Gail" and "Miss Gail-Lin." The act is a winner.

NEXT WEEK'S SHOW

Another vaudeville show has been booked for the Booker Washington for next week. It includes Jenkins and Jenkins; Fox and Yank; Hooks and Hooks; Nickerson and Parker. The patrons will draw their regular "Pay Day" salary on Monday night.

THE PICTURE THEATRES

"South of Suva," "Lure of Gold" and "Yellow Men and Gold" at the Star.

Mary Miles Minter in "South of Suva" will be the feature at the Star Theatre this Saturday. It concerns a bride who comes to the South Seas to join her husband only to find that he has fallen under baneful tropic influence. Before the girl works her way out to happiness there are some extremely gripping scenes, which include a native attack on a lagoon, their dispersal by dynamite, a real Fiji island cannibalistic dance—all worked cleverly into the story and a most colorful story.

Motion pictures of the St. Louis "Browns" will also be shown on Saturday.

On Sunday Neal Hart will be presented in "Lure of Gold." It tells of Jack Austin, who was lured by gold into the burning desert and strikes luck. They he goes into a wild border town to enjoy some of the comforts the desert had denied him. Here it fills his lot to save a girl from a wild steer and is later saved by her from the plots of some desperate characters who would steal his earnings. This all requires plenty of action and excitement, including bulldozing, broncho riding and roping. It is said to be one of the most startling pictures Neal Hart ever appeared in.

Helene Chadwick and Richard Dix have the leading roles in Gouverneur Morris' "Yellow Men and Gold," which will be presented at the Star next Thursday and Friday. It possesses much of the romantic and adventurous "charm" that made "Seven Years' Luck" a classic and which has made "The Last Days of Pompeii" a photoplay with the reading public. The action starts in Los Angeles and rapidly shifts to two ships which are headed for an island in the South Seas, where was sunk three hundred years ago. There are some sharp encounters between the officers and crews of the two rival bands of treasure seekers, and two of the greatest single-handed conflicts ever shown upon the screen.

"Bits of Life," "Hurricane's Gal" and "Salvation Nell"—Olympia.

"Bits of Life," the Marshall Nolan novelty production which presents the combined works of four authors, is the popular First National attraction at the Olympia Theatre this Saturday. It is an extremely clever production and marks the advent of a new type of screen entertainment in the amusement world. The production is divided into four episodes, each of which is based on a different story, though all are connected by the same theme. A different cast appears in each episode. Among the well-known players who have distinguished themselves in "Bits of Life" are Lon Chaney, Noah Berry, Harriet Hammond, James Bradbury, Jr., Rockcliffe Feltwell, Wesley Barlow, John Huxford, Anna May Wong and Teddy Sampson.

The Olympia feature for Sunday, "Hurricane's Gal," is a big sea story in which Dorothy Phillips has the role of a wild untamed girl who was inherited from her Irish father, a smuggler, a spirit of hate and lawless deed and from her mother the warm romantic blood of the Spanish. The picture is a real "thriller," containing much intensely dramatic action, aided by a hydroplane, a destroyer and a big schooner.

Next Thursday, the feature will be "Salvation Nell." It's a story of the ups and downs of a poor little girl in a great city. Nell Saunders loses her sweatshop job, is discharged from the sewing establishment of Hash House Sal, but her pluck saves her from being sent to the workhouse. She is supported as the scrubwoman of a saloon, and she joins the Salvation Army and triumphs, saving her beloved Jim from himself. Pauline Starke has the leading role in "Salvation Nell," with Joe King playing opposite her.

excitement incident to the action of the drama it is a most picturesque production. The beautiful mountains and valleys are pictured in all their splendor, also views of a lumber camp in full operation, from the cutting down of the big trees to their being cut up into planks for domestic use. Hoxie proves his ability to accept the part role, for he is both the big good-natured camp foreman, beloved by his men, and the roving bad-man, the Canadian wild who fights as quickly with his fists as with his revolver.

On Sunday, Strongheart, the Belgian police dog, will be seen in "The Silent Call." Strongheart, in the role of Flash, is a cross between a dog and a wolf, and the development of the picture shows the two strains in him struggling for mastery. Because of his man domination, becomes intolerable he breaks his chains and goes to the mountains where he mates with a full blooded wolf.

In the end, however, the human instinct of loyalty is too strong to withstand the lure of the wild. The human beings who claimed his affection are in danger, Flash returns to the city and in time to effect a thrilling rescue. While the police dog, as a distinct aid in time to effect a thrilling rescue. While the police dog, as a distinct aid in time to effect a thrilling rescue.

"Serenade," "Turn to the Right and 'Rough Shod' at the Lincoln." Marian Cooper and George Walsh in "Serenade" will be the Lincoln Theatre attraction this Saturday. It is described by the producers as a "colorful Spanish drama." It is smoothly developed, has tense situations and an excellent climax. The spirit of romance which pervades the picture will make an appeal to persons of all ages. The picture is a very charming work, and possesses that intangible but necessary quality—punch. As a program production, "Turn to the Right" will be presented on Sunday and Monday. It is a hook play, but a comedy, in which crooks are virtuous heroes and deacons are villainous crooks. In the main, it is a comedy of a highly hilarious sort with ingenious dramatic situations and surprises.

Next Thursday the Lincoln will present Charles 'Buck Jones' in "Rough Shod." It deals with ranch life in Arizona, its villainy, embargo, and the polished and the rough, and its love romance is of the most whole some sort. Its hero is a very charming young business woman—owner of a ranch—and the hero is her foreman, a child of study, nerve and physical. The story is well stocked with exciting incidents including a slant to the death under water.

"The Call of the North," "A Question of Honor," and "Fools First" at the Comet.

Jack Holt in "The Call of the North" will be featured at the Comet Theatre this Saturday. The locale of the story is the wilderness regions of the Hudson Bay Country and concerns a great front, one of the men who try to set themselves up as free traders. The story includes with red blooded action, excitement and suspense and is a most appropriate vehicle for the new star, "Mac" Bailey, a delightful and a leading woman and the other principal characters are enacted by Noah Berry and Frances McDonald.

A special attraction on Saturday will be motion pictures of the St. Louis Browns.

On Tuesday, Anita Stewart will be presented in "A Question of Honor." Anita Stewart, a New York society girl who deserts a luxurious Fifth Avenue home for an equally sumptuous life in the mountains, is a popular star plays the part of a girl who throws courtship convention to the winds and becomes the prize of the pursued. Anita's interest in a certain man is so spurred on by his indifference that she determines to make him admire her, how she succeeds and loses her own heart at the same time forms a delightful love interest thread in this thrilling story of adventure and conquest in the High Sierras.

"Fools First" will be featured next Thursday and Friday. It is a Marshall Neilan production. While the characters in the story are chiefly denizens of the underworld, Neilan has made human beings of them and as a result there is a naturalness in the action that is convincing. There is a reason for everything and no one is ever sacrificed for the sake of a punch or a thrill. But the production is an equal with the best of the genre. The spectator grips the arms of his chair with tension.

"What No Woman Knows," "Don't Doubt Your Wife," and "The Girl in His Room" at the Leatman.

Clara Kimball Young will be seen at the Leatman Theatre on Sunday and Monday in "What No Woman Knows." In the story the star seeks to recover from the drugs the man she loves and who has unfortunately fallen into oblivion through the evil machinations of a self-seeking and false wife. The school days of the young man as the years roll by, and though the one she loves has strayed from the path of righteousness, she is not in his never fails. The story brings out clearly how good men can go to ruin through no fault of their own and how they can be restored by truth and love. There are many new and interesting scenes and a most refreshing relief. The establishment of milk deposits for the poor, a great milk trial scene in "Across the Continent." This is an automobile picture filled with thrills and action. It is an automobile story built upon romance, perhaps the greatest example of which is the entry of a river in a great automobile race. And the river wins through sheer speed. It is a picture which introduces the new man's car. Jack's Chicago will be seen in

THE INTER-RACIAL COMMISSION
As we study the work that is being done by the Inter-Racial Commission in the several communities in the South, we can't but wonder if the energy and faith of this organization is being directed in the proper channel to get the best possible results.

We fully agree with the purpose of the organization, and believe much good will be accomplished by its existence, because its work is in the South where the greatest need for the race is the most.

If we were a member of the Commission, we would direct our energies toward enlisting just about 12 white men and women about 6 colored men and women in each state. We would, about, we had succeeded in getting these well organized earnestly seeking a solution. Sufficient to say that those who make up the commission would be the most influential of the State.

When once organized and working together, we would then in the spirit of Christ, lay the problem on the table for action. We don't doubt for a moment what the results would be.

The present plan of the Commission to organize communities is too large and therefore unwieldy. The best results cannot be consistently hoped for.

One of the greatest menace in the South today, is the Jim Crow law. From it springs most of the ills from which we suffer. Its badge of inferiority placed upon the colored people of the State by the State. Hence, it encourages all other kind of devilry that the lawless class is capable of.

More can be done by the Inter-Racial Commission if properly organized.

WHERE THE MINORITY RULES
Addressing an audience in the south recently, a white minister of some prominence said; "ninety-five per cent of the people of the south are opposed to mob violence," which was met with seemingly hearty applause.

The minister did not explain according to report, how he could prove the assertion in view of the fact that mob violence is going on in the south un molested and unchecked.

Since hearing this statement, we have studied it from many angles, but for the life of us, we cannot reduce our thinking faculties to the point of reasoning that this minister was telling the truth or anything akin to the truth.

WHERE THE RUB COMES
We hold no malice against the American white man because we were slaves to some of them at one time in this country. It is not that we hate a white man who is a slaveholder who have been in the past. But the burning question now is, what the white man is doing to us today, and who we are today—That where the rub comes.

NEGRO BUSINESS LEAGUE
Much has been said about the benefits that are derived from the annual meetings of the National Negro Business League. The same criticism may be made of any annual gathering by any one who wishes to do so.

We do not see that any gatherings are for the purpose of discussing those things which are peculiar to the profession represented. These discussions are as a rule based upon the experience of the several states and conducted in such a manner as will be inspiring and helpful to others.

Progress at its best has been slow. The blazed path of others has furnished the light for most of our feet. The experience of others has furnished hope and aspiration for most of our ambitions. The saying, "That man has done more than I," has encouraged many a heart. Who of us that has not been inspired by hearing the other fellow tell how he mastered the problems over which we have struggled for years? It is the measuring of ourselves alongside the other fellow that often enables us to see our shortcomings and by far the best way to know all.

The National Negro Business League offers the opportunity of men and women of professions and business to come together and exchange ideas along their respective lines, and also an opportunity for those who hear to catch the inspiration and vision which may cause them to enter business at a better advantage than the careless and indifferent.

We do not see that any criticism of the annual meetings of the National Negro Business League by anyone except those who know it all or those who have reached the zenith of their profession.

BREWSTER, THE SQUARE DEALER
From the Springfield Missouri Republican

R. R. Brewster's easy victory in the recent Republican Senatorial primaries was due in no inconsiderable degree to the wholehearted support of the Negroes in the principal population centers, St. Louis, Kansas City, Springfield, St. Joseph and Jefferson City. The work had gone out early in the pre-primary days that Brewster was a square dealer in his relations and dealings with all men, and this conviction was borne in upon his fellow Republicans in the State with increasing emphasis the more they were made acquainted with his sterling character and straightforward conduct in his profession, as his work as citizen and in his services to his party, state and country.

Naturally enough, this kind of a man "looked good" to the Negroes of Missouri. All they ask is a square deal and a fair chance.

That the Negroes of the State are pleased over the nomination of Mr. Brewster for Senator is clearly set forth in the following editorial expression in The Argus, the leading newspaper of the race in St. Louis.

The Argus wishes to congratulate the workers and supporters of Mr. R. Brewster, who was successful in winning the nomination as the Republican nominee for the United States Senate.

In commending Mr. Brewster to the voters of the State, we stated that he was the kind of a man who was by far the ablest among those who aspired for the office. We cherish a modest opinion of the fact that the people of the state have sustained our judgment of Mr. Brewster and have, by a large majority made him the choice of the Republican party of the State.

Of course, we were not surprised to hear a fellow say the other day that he would be willing to make an affidavit stating that he has known L. H. Bradley for fifteen years, and during that time he has never seen the latter sober—may be, that accounts for "Bradley's" advocacy of wine and beer.

It is horrible! Its crime against humanity to see so many Negroes who call themselves leaders indifferent to the anti-lynching bill.

We are really proud of the political fight in Texas precipitated over the issue of the Ku Klux Klan.

The government has found a way to round up the radicals who are seeking to undermine the army. How about the Ku Klux who are seeking to undermine the government?

Business Opportunities
There are about eight hundred different colored theatrical acts on the road. Some of them are excellent. There are many colored actors and actresses in the United States and theatrical managers everywhere are crying for good acts with new songs and original plots.

So far white men have developed all the colored acts and actors in this country. The colored theatrical act capable of discrimination and with ability to force his following out of the street, is the only one using it until the public is fed up on it is the thing we need.

Barber Shops and Restaurants
It is a strange thing that most every city where colored folk live in any number has a surplus of colored "cock-shops," barber shops and restaurants. The colored barber and restaurant is a thing that is inherited from slavery as well as an interesting side light on the colored race.

The colored aristocracy during slavery were Negro house servants, valets, and butlers. The valet class has developed into barber shops, barber shops and restaurants are the expression of the colored race.

A USEFUL CITIZEN DIES

CHARLES LIGHTFOOT
Who Succumbs After Three Days Illness

It was quite a shock to the people of St. Louis when the news of the death of Charles Lightfoot was announced August 12th.

Mr. Lightfoot had only been ill just three days, having taken ill on Saturday August 9th.

Funeral services were held August 10th from St. Paul A. M. E. Church, of which he was member. The ceremonies were conducted by Rev. C. A. Williams, the pastor.

The funeral oration was delivered by W. G. Matthews. Mr. Lightfoot was a respected citizen of St. Louis and was 50 years old. He was a business man engaged in the grocery business at 15 N. Ewing Ave. assisted by his wife and companion Mrs. Mamie Lightfoot. A beautiful tribute to the life and character of the deceased was made by his life-long friend W. G. Matthews at the funeral as follows:

Some fifty years ago, the State of Illinois, my friend and neighbor, Charles Lightfoot, was born. He was of humble parentage and few opportunities, and at a very early age he was compelled to depend upon himself.

His mother, Mrs. Mary Lightfoot, was not so brilliant to him as to many of his neighbors. He began to make his mark in life, perhaps was not so brilliant to him as to many of his neighbors. He began to make his mark in life, perhaps was not so brilliant to him as to many of his neighbors.

of in furnishing supplies to white people in the country. But even here the possibilities of development in business have yet to be taken full advantage of. In this section there are about 150,000 Negroes who, at a conservative estimate, spend annually over $15,000,000 for food, clothing, shoes, etc. From reliable sources we have it estimated that for every dollar the Negro spends he spends 30 cents for clothing 32 for food, 12 cents for shelter, including insurance, 17 cents for luxuries, amusements, education and recreation, and save one cent. Applying these figures to the Negro population, we find that the Negroes in this section spend about one million dollars for shoes estimating two pairs of shoes a year for each individual at an average cost of a little more than $2.00 per pair.

over its creed or color, have that unimagined opportunity for development which is assured to everyone of its citizens by that nation which declares itself "free in liberty and justice for all." To the proposition that all men are created equal.

CLAIM THAT JIM-CROW STREET CARS ARE CAUSE OF COMPANY'S DEFCIT

Because Of Color Line

Danville, Va., Traction and Power Co. May Have To Quit Business

Associated Negro Press.

DANVILLE, Va., Aug. 16.—Officials of the Danville Traction and Power Company are asserted as to just how to conduct the local street car system in a way to make the business profitable. Some are inclined to blame the shortage in revenues on the presence of such large number of the "colored" people here, but a majority of them are of the opinion that the real cause of the falling off of the revenues is that white and colored people are not allowed to use the same doors of the street cars.

As we enter upon a new year in the work of the National Negro League, I wish to emphasize the importance of systematic organization and a definite program, matters which are absolutely essential to our continued existence and our efficiency in providing business enterprises in the race. I am at this time suggesting to the officers and members of the League that we should have certain adjustments in our organization that will tend to systematize better the work of the League and make possible a more effective cooperation in the various phases of its work.

Fourth, I think that the one who now come for the National Negro Business League to employ a secretary or agent of some kind who shall devote all of his time to the work of the League. I think that there is a real need and a real demand for such an organization. We have in the Negro race needs the inspiration and information which this organization will give to the individual and the community. It also needs the organization of efforts and the cooperation of individuals and organizations. It needs the economic uplifting which is the result of the organized effort.

BUT SUE MIST WHISPER

By T. M. Atkins

But she must whisper in her neighbor's ear. The things in mind most present and most dear: To tell the wife of the well dressed lady, that she must whisper something to her husband.

She'll faint, body faint, Thou art purer than the morning air, No more changing than the wind that blows.

Now for the second feature of this program: Except for the hard shaken out at our meeting by Mr. T. K. Gibson. The object of such a movement is to unite the various classes of the Negro race in a campaign of educating our own people in that city as to the importance of the Negro business. A Trade Boosting Campaign conducted by the Local League in that city and state at our meeting by Mr. T. K. Gibson. The object of such a movement is to unite the various classes of the Negro race in a campaign of educating our own people in that city as to the importance of the Negro business.

Some of them have already discovered that there can be no further progress in this country unless we find business to larger and higher development. Ignorance is at the present time the greatest enemy of the Negro race. It is the lack of knowledge of the business that is the greatest enemy of the Negro race. It is the lack of knowledge of the business that is the greatest enemy of the Negro race.

Hot Dog!

Any girl with a steady is out of luck if Edith Wilson ever sets her eyes on him, is Edie a vamp? Oh, Boy! Just to hear her sing "He may be your man, but he comes to see me sometimes" makes you nervous.

In these two selections Johnny Dunn and his Jazz Hounds tear up the music and start a riot.

As an illustration of the further possibilities in this direction is furnished in the drug line. There are in the United States today more than 100,000 Negroes who are engaged in the drug business. As to the future of the Negro business, it is a large field for development in this direction into which the National Negro Business League is entering immediately.

For those who are interested in the possibilities of the Negro race, I have in mind a plan of action that I have found in my country. This plan is to take the business of the National Negro Business League up to the next year. It is a plan that I have found in my country. It is a plan that I have found in my country.

Debate Into Fistic Combat

Preston News Service
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 23.—Very often pleasant discussions turn out for the mutual benefit of the participants and hearers in knowledge gained, but occasionally they have the reverse effect. At a meeting of the Young Ministers' Alliance here last Tuesday might dispute arose over ecclesiastical ethics, beginning as a mere abstract question, and finding its climax in an intensely personal exchange of opinions as well as physical effort. The argument, it is said, arose over the ethics and propriety of the recreation of the organization in expelling one of its members.

According to the police, Revs. L. Mack and J. L. Mack got the worst of the argument. Both sustained severe cuts about their faces and arms. Rev. Mack had to be removed to the Bush Memorial hospital where 23 stitches

8. leged to have inflicted the wound upon the two ministers, is said to have
